

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Witnesses Producing Damaging Evidence Against the Rioters.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Henry Heineemann, a reporter of the Chicago Tribune, was the first witness called in the Anarchist trial this morning. He testified that he was at a meeting on O-tober 11 last, at Twelfth street Turner hall. Resolutions were introduced by August Spies. Fielden was there, and the meeting was presided over by A. Belz. The contents of the resolutions submitted by Spies related to the impending eight-hour movement, and that the working men could not hope for success unless they were prepared to enforce their demands. The resolutions concluded by something like "Death to the enemies of the human race, our despots."

It was also set forth in the resolutions which were adopted unanimously by the meeting, that in all likelihood the capitalist class would oppose the laboring men by means of the police and the militia, and that no lasting reform could be accomplished unless a similar force was brought to bear against the class in authority. The witness says May 1 was designated as the time the new labor movement was to be introduced. These resolutions are introduced in evi-

Then Officer J. A. West, of the Herman street station was put on the stand. He was at McCormick reaper factory on the afternoon of May 3, near where a meeting was being held at which August Spies was prominent speaker.

THE TELEPHONE SUITS.
A Temporary Injunction Granted Awaiting the Result at Columbus.

BALTIMORE, July 21.—The case of the American Bell Telephone company vs. the Pan Electric Telephone company, the Washington Telephone company and others was heard in the United States circuit court. The complainants' plea was that the defendants' telephones were an infringement on the Bell patent, and they asked for an injunction. Defendants argued that action could not be taken while a suit was pending in the United States circuit court of the southwest district of Ohio at Columbus, in which the United States is testing the validity of the patents. The court, however, granting a preliminary nary injunction, restraining the defendants from using the telephone instrument in their possession until the further order of the court. Later the court ordered that the defendants could use the instruments now in use in the present places operated until August 19, provided that before or upon that day all their telephone instruments should be deposited in the custody of the clerk of the United States court.

A LAKE DROWNING.
A Captain Accidentally Knocked Overboard by a Boom.
 CHICAGO, July 21.—A dispatch from White Lake, Mich., reports the death of Captain William Williams, of the schooner Mary M. Cook, by drowning. The boat had board by the boom while rounding to on White Lake harbor, and being an old man sank before help could reach him. Captain "Billy," as he was familiarly called, for years past has been known in every port on the lakes and the eastern shore. He and his schooner are famous as having miraculously escaped destruction in 1883, during a terrific gale in the spring of that year.

Capt. Billy and the schooner Mary Cook were caught in the storm and driven before the wind right on the outer breaker. Three vessels had gone to pieces by doing the same thing, but the Mary Cook took a flying leap over the impediments and found smooth weather and safe anchorage in the basin. How it occurred Billy and his crew never could explain.

THE WHEREABOUTS OF A LUNATIC
A Young Man Goes Insane and Takes the Woods.
BROWNSVILLE, Pa., July 21. — Jeremiah Burkhardt, aged twenty, became insane about six days ago, armed himself with a gun loaded with buckshot, and a dagger, and disappeared with a whoop among the rocks on the steep side of Indian hill. Constable Siegler and a posse were commissioned to bring him back, and they are now searching for him. A dozen men were on the hill, but failed to find him.

It is believed that he has crawled into a cave, and being too weak to move, is slowly starving to death. Young Burkhardt was wicketed on the head and his train injured.

Two Convicts Pardoned.
CHESTER PRISON, Ill., July 21.—Jere McCreates came here last March, to serve a life term for murder. He was pardoned after a short time ago, and from this cause his insanity arises. He imagines he has some enemy, and is now hiding and starving to death. A posse of 100 men will resume the search to-morrow.

fourteen months for illicit distilling in Northern Alabama, and Bud Higging has been here for four years on a ten year sentence for robbing a mail carrier in Texas. Yesterday afternoon the warden received official notice of their pardon by President Cleveland, and they were released at once. McCrete was pardoned because he has always been a poor industrious farmer and a peaceable citizen with a law-abiding family.

Struck by a Tidal Wave.
PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., July 21.—Several tugboats coming up to Cape Flattery were struck Saturday night, by a tidal wave, which ran so high that the tugboats were buried at times.

The commotion lasted about half an hour. After the waves had subsided, the sea was found to be covered with dead codfish, halibut and salmon. The inference drawn was that the wave was caused by a submarine eruption.

...two members out of fifty-seven of the New York bar, whose views the women's suffrage party have obtained on the claim that women are debarred by the state constitution from the franchise. The fifty-two endorse Hamilton Wilcox's legal work, entitled, "The legislature's power over suffrage," and concur with his opinion that the claim that the constitution disfranchises women has no legal foundation.
